

STREETS & DREAMS

García Lorca in New York

From “Nacimiento de Cristo” (The Birth of Christ), Poet in New York

La nieve de Manhattan empuja los anuncios
y lleva gracia pura por las falsas ojivas.
Sacerdotes idiotas y querubes de pluma
van detrás de Lutero por las altas esquinas

The snow of Manhattan blows against billboards and carries pure grace through the fake Gothic arches.
idiot clergymen and cherubim in feathers
follow Luther in a line around the high corners.
